The Advantages

Scalable Intelligence Reporting

Clients can customize pre-planned packages by choosing the level of intelligence, content, reporting frequency or request customized tasking.

Predictable and Fixed Pricing

The clients can predict the budget based on a pre-determined price range and plan the type of report, quantity of orders and depth of intelligence.

Short Proposal & Response Time

24/7 on-duty project managers address all inquiries in regards to task order pre-emptive analysis, scoping, proposals and confirmation.

Reduced Setup Period

Already established platform and monitoring teams ready to begin with monitoring and reporting within 24hrs from request.

Flexible Reporting Format

White-labelled or branded reporting format based on the clients' templates or the Dynamics International Group standard report format.

Human-Controlled Process

Fully human-based OSINT analysis and control of the automated collection process, ensuring that no collection errors or false positives are reported.

Volume Discount Program

Discount program with deduced unit price per report for larger and regular monthly volume orders.

Other Services Integration

Clients can combine real-time monitoring with other intelligence services for an optimized, full coverage package and reduced costs.

Follow-up Availability

The reporting team continues to be available for follow-up questions within the scope of work and customization of the report's final version.

Feedback Implementation

No one is perfect, and we are happy to hear about it. The feedback helps us understand the expectations and we implement it in the next project.

Secure Delivery System

Our clients can choose their own method of transfer of the reports, or request access to our Intelligence Box platform for secure file exchange.
